Eastern's 'Sad Sac'

Eastern's Sacajawea statue, a gift from the class of 1916 to the college, needs to be replaced.

Its battered condition is no longer a joke. In fact, it's pathetic.

We of The Easterner believe that if the college will not act to replace this "eye sore" then it is up to the students to take it upon themselves to raise funds to purchase a new statue. One which will be constructed of a stronger material and one that we can all be proud of.

John Andrist, former editor of The Easterner and the Cheney Free Press and currently news editor of KHQ-TV, said that he will match the first $5 raised by the students.

Tom Ennis, student body president, said that a new statue can be purchased for as low as $1600, up to $3000.

Fellow students, let's all unite behind this fund drive. Let's replace "Sad Sac."

For the present you may contribute to the "New Sac" drive at The Easterner office, 103 in Showalter.

President To Attend Education Meeting

Dr. Don S. Patterson, president of Eastern Washington College of Education, will attend a Little White House conference on education in Seattle October 29. He is a member of the committee on education.

Dr. Jack R. Leighton, head of Eastern's division of health, physical education and recreation, will also attend the conference at the invitation of Governor Rosellini, as a specialist in his field.

The governor also invited Tom Ennis, president of Eastern's associated student body, to attend the meeting.

Play Tryouts Today

Dr. Harold K. Stevens will hold auditions this afternoon at 3:10 p. m. in Showalter auditorium for parts in Robert Penn Warren's "All the King's Men."

No previous experience is required in the theater arts and everyone is welcome to try out.

Technical positions will also be awarded at the audition.

Garry Hall First In Dorm Decorations

Garry hall won first prize for dorm decorations at Homecoming, with Senior second, Monroe and Sutton third and fourth respectively.

It was the Commuters' candidate, Marilyn Spencer, who was elected Homecoming Queen.

The Savagettes took the honors for stationary floats.

Beard-growing honors went to Jerry Littlemore for the longest growth; Fred Costa, best trim, and Ozzie Rose, best attempt.

All-in-all, it was a successful Homecoming.

Musicians To Meet

Delegates from Montana, Idaho and Washington colleges and universities are expected to meet at Eastern Washington College of Education next Tuesday for a joint meeting of Northwest Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia fraternity chapters.

AMS Political Forum Slated For Tomorrow

Rita Foy Is IK Sweetheart

Rita Anne Foy, an education major from Marshall, has been selected IK Sweetheart for the school year 1959-60. Miss Foy, a graduate of Cheney high school, teaches various dance styles when she is not busy with school. Rita is known on campus for her superlative dance routines at some variety shows in the past two years.

The Intercollegiate Knights choose a sweetheart every year on the basis of talent, poise, personality, and overall impression. During spring quarter Miss Foy will compete for the honor of being Regional Queen during the IK regional convention. The winner of that competition will then go to the national convention the following summer.

During the winter quarter, the IK's will give a banquet in the sweetheart's honor. It is a dinner-dance which is held every year in one of the Spokane clubs.

X-RAY UNIT SCHEDULED

The X-ray unit, scheduled to be on campus last month, was re-scheduled to be here yesterday and this morning. The unit will be stationed back of Martin hall, and all students are urged to take advantage of this free service.

Plans are complete for the Associated Men Students' and Citizenship Clearing House's Political Forum to be held all day tomorrow (October 29) at Eastern, Paul F. Hooper, AMS president and Dr. H. Kenneth Hossom, CCH Trustee, announced.

Discussions will begin at 10 a. m. and will feature Congressmen Stewart F. Udall (D-Ariz.) and Bob Wilson (R-California), Dr. Claudius O. Johnson of Washington State university and Murlin Spencer, chief of the Associated Press bureau, Seattle.

Representative Udall, a Tucson lawyer, hails from an old and distinguished Arizona family of political figures. His three-term career in the United States house of representatives began after air force duty in World War II. He represents the second congressional district of Arizona.

SERVICE RESTRICTED

Those who make the fountain area headquarters for morning coffee, will find the new addition will be closed Thursday morning in preparation for the luncheon, thus reducing their area by 25 per cent. Students are invited to attend the program in the lounge instead of the "coffee hour."

Udall has been prominent in three house committees, labor, education and interior insular affairs, and was one of the leaders in opposition to the labor legislation recently passed by Congress.

Representative Wilson, a San Diego advertising firm executive, is a native of California residing in Chula Vista. He began service in the house in 1952 following service in World War II, representing the 30th congressional district of California, which includes San Diego and most of that county. Wilson has been interested and active in military affairs and now serves on the house armed service committee.

Wilson was one of the California originators of a movement which resulted in President Eisenhower's nomination in 1952 and has since been an active promoter of his party.

Dr. Claudius O. Johnson of WSU is nationally known for his abilities as an author and lecturer. His main interest lies in the field of state and national government and he has written numerous volumes in that area. His abilities as a scholastic figure are renowned.

Murlin Spencer, is well known in the Northwest as the chief of the Associated Press bureau in Seattle. Spencer's knowledge of practical problems in the area of the press is great and his comments on this at the luncheon will set the scene for the afternoon discussion of freedoms of the press.

The program will deal with personal liberties and their conflict with national security.

The morning session will deal with academic freedoms and the afternoon session will see freedom of the press discussed.

Basic purpose of this forum, sponsored by two non-partisan groups, is to provide a stimulus toward greater interest in national and international affairs on the part of the general student body and area citizens. All sessions except the luncheon are open to any student or citizen. All events will take place in the student union building.

Cooperation Of All Students Needed In Student Union Cafeteria Operation

The operation of the student union cafeteria is a subject of vital concern to all of us at Eastern. Complaining about it has become a general campus activity.

There are a great many problems involved in the operation of this facility which students do not understand. But which students can do a lot about.

One of these concerns the labor cost involved in serving the large numbers of students who frequent the cafeteria. Those who desire better service than is now rendered could do a lot to improve the situation by cooperating with the management and staff.

If we will all develop a few simple habits in our conduct in the union it will be a much more pleasant place for everybody. By cleaning our own tables, stacking dishes properly, using ashtrays for our cigarettes and saucers with our cups, we can materially reduce the cost of operating the cafeteria.

When we have each done our bit to improve the conditions in the union, then, and only then will we have a right to gripe about the shortcomings of others. All that is necessary is that we take care of our own student union as we would our own home.

Congratulations Due Whitman College

Last week Whitman college at Walla Walla celebrated its 100th year of operation.

We at Eastern wish to extend our sincerest congratulations and best wishes on this historic centennial of one of our sister colleges.

The faculty and administration of Whitman college can be justly proud of the fine record and excellent academic reputation acquired through 100 years of educating American youth.

Tug Of War In Steel Industry Must Be Stopped

By Bill Brophy

The rape of the American economy will continue.

This is the real significance of the court order restraining the Taft-Hartley injunction in the current steel strike.

Bill Brophy

will have to be patient.

And we, the people who must pay the bill for both the unions and the companies, will have to be patient.

How long will our patience last?

There are signs that it is at an end. Congressmen speak of a special session to end the strike by direct legislation. The docile and dormant Eisenhower administration has finally been stirred into action—with the usual

Nearly half a million workers thrown out of work by the steel strike will have to be patient. Thousands of stockholders, powerless in the face of irresponsible management of the steel plants they own, will have to be patient. Hundreds of companies, forced to suspend operations for lack of steel, lack of results.

But the steel debauchery continues to pillage the American economy.

The time has come when we must have regulation of labor management relations in the public interest. This regulation must be swift, sure, and effective. Past experience has indicated that it can only be so if it is placed in the hands of an independent agency with broad legislative and judicial powers. The national labor relations board, or some similar agency, must be empowered to force settlement of such disputes as the present steel strike before they are allowed to do irreparable damage to other innocent segments of the economy.

The right of appeal to courts must be preserved, but the primary actions in curbing strikes must be kept out of the courts or the right of appeal will nullify every effort to defend the public interest just as it has in the steel strike.

The function of the steel industry, both of companies and unions, in the new technology, is to produce steel. Profits and wages must be secondary to this responsibility. The welfare of the economy demands it, and the time is nigh when the people will demand it.

New EW Trio Receives Variety of Names From Students

By Chief Gary

Ed Barnhardt, Ron Jones and Gary Owsley, three singers who have formed a new trio at Eastern have been looking for a name for their group. Here are a few choice selections submitted by our readers: "The Savage Three," "Sac's Singers,"

Chief Gary

"The Mormon Tabernacle Choir," "Balladeers," "The Cosmic Crooners," and "The Melodeers." There they are men, take your choice.

See your name in print! Anyone who contributes to the "Sad Sac Fund" will be mentioned in The Easterner.

Phillip Grub, a graduate of this college, and currently doing graduate work at George Washington university, wrote Dr. Dayton a letter telling about his studies. The following is an excerpt from that letter:

"Since I arrived at this university and have seen the difficulty that so many graduate students are having in the way of course deficiencies and others (of which there are many) that cannot pass the graduate course tests, I have become all the more aware of how well you and others such as Dr. Hossom, Dr. Woolf and the late Dr. Ludwig, to state a few, have prepared me."

The Easterner has been endorsed by the national manufacturers of bird cages. It's just the right size.

A table tennis program got underway yesterday.

Plans were outlined for intramural play and outside competition . . . anyone interested in this program is urged to contact Bernard Kingsly for details.

A good time was had by all at the Homecoming dance . . . did you catch the grad with the sign on his back? "Have Flask—Don't Ask."

I saw one of my old room mates from Monroe hall days . . . I wouldn't say this guy was dumb but the only thing he passed his sophomore year was his physical. And he had to use cribs to do that. This is the same guy who originated the now extinct "Grubby Week" festivities back in the spring of 1956.

For those of you who weren't here or don't remember, this was a week where the men wore old clothes and didn't shave. Anyone who did was dunked in a water tank. The week's festivities were supposed to be climaxed by a dance on Friday night with the men selecting a "Miss Grubby" from among Eastern's co-eds. Things went fine until the signs from the different men's halls came out campaigning for their candidates.

They read something like this . . . "Vote for Miss Jones, the Biggest PIG on Campus." "Miss Smith is the one . . . she's real Dirty." . . . "B. O. Sal is a real filthy Gal."

Needless to say the signs came down mighty fast when the candidates appealed to the dean of women.

ASB President Says

ASB Officer Welcomes Complaints

By Tom Ennis

Really, I think that this column should be titled "Box 661;" it seems that no one has any complaints. The student center is always open, and I am usually in my office most of Tuesdays and Thursdays.

"Box 661" is where your suggestions and/or complaints will be given careful consideration. Only through the voice of the students can your student government learn what changes should be made in problem areas of the school.

Everyone in the school is represented by an appropriate student council representative. If you don't know who that person is then come to one of your officers and air your views.

Bureaucracy is a necessary evil; however, if it hinders communication then it is not accomplishing its purpose.

Any legitimate complaint or suggestion given to me, as your student body president, will be considered very carefully, and I guarantee that all such suggestions or complaints will have definite action taken on them, if it is within the power of your student government.

Your student government exists for the benefit of all members of the college community, and it will accomplish just as much as you wish it to, and no more.

Registration Shows 2158

Final fall quarter registration figures for Eastern Washington college show that 2158 students are enrolled for on-campus classes, Registrar C. W. Quinley Jr., announced.

A record 1116 freshmen are enrolled, Quinley said. More than 900 of these are new students; the others have transferred from other colleges.

Enrollment of sophomores totals 372; juniors, 330, and seniors, 217. There are 123 graduate students registered.

In every class, men outnumber women, Quinley said, with a total of 1461 men signed for classes, compared with 697 women. A breakdown by classes shows there are 745 men freshman and 371 women. In the sophomore class, 255 men are enrolled and 117 women. There are 230 junior men compared with 100 women, and 143 senior men and only 74 senior women.

In graduate classes, 88 men are registered, but only 35 women.

IK Playboy Dance

Saturday, November 7, the IK's will sponsor their second annual Playboy dance. It will be held in the W. W. Isle Memorial union from 9 until midnight.

Each men's dorm will sponsor a "Playmate" of their choice and the winner of an election at the dance will be "Playboy Playmate" for that night.

Leading Whitworth Is Next Savage Foe

The Eastern SPORTS

LOOKING UP

With Al Ruddy

Saturday's game with the Whitworth Pirates will mark the closing of another Evergreen conference season for Eastern Washington, and in terms of record it could hardly be considered successful, at least up to this point. The Savages go into this game with a 1-2-1 record.

Al Ruddy

Last year the Redmen finished the season with a 4-4 record, and with a 2-3 record for conference play. Not much more commendable.

Usually when a club finishes rather low in the standings, it's attributed to green material. And last year's squad could be labeled that, for only six men were lost off the squad via graduation.

There were several expected to return that had seen plenty of action last year, and some who had made the starting lineup. Had all of these players been back, the season might have turned out differently.

However, new academic regulations were established that proved to be a much better way to get rid of ball players than graduation. By the time the review board had finished, the 1959 club would be just another one to build. And that's exactly what it has been.

Of course this is nothing new here at Eastern, but it has been even more noticeable in the basketball teams than in football. According to hoop coach W. B. "Red" Reese, this is the first time in five years that only those that had graduated were the missing the next year.

This year there are even fewer seniors on the Eastern gridiron than last year, leaving next year's squad a little farther ahead, providing most of them do get back.

Some newcomers on the squad have displayed potential that could make them really fine Evergreen conference ball players.

Names of Mike Macauley, Jay Stierwalt, Dave Crowell and many others, could, with the right kind of team, become known as excellent Evergreen competitors. I join with the coaching staff in hoping that at least 90 percent of the squad will be on hand for next season.

With the coming Whitworth contest only three days away, at least four people on campus have begun developing anxieties, and are viewing the game with some trepidations. The four are Tom Ennis, ASB president; Don Duncan, vice president; Gary Herman, Easterner editor, and last and not least, yours truly.

The cause of these anxieties is the challenge of the Spokane wheelbarrow push.

Four years ago an enterprising Eastern student body president took it upon himself to organize and establish this little excursion as a fall tradition. Fortunately or unfortunately, depending on your point of view, his name has been obscured in the annals of institutional diplomacy. Were it there for all to see he would have probably received several poison pen letters.

Had I not been on the right end of that wheelbarrow for the last two years, I might have done some extensive research in finding this culprit.

It is probably evident at this point that my confidence is at rather a low ebb; however, I understand that I am not alone in this, for I have heard that Mr. Ennis has been on the lookout for motorized wheelbarrows. May his search not be in vain.

So remember, you football heroes, this is not time to forget your alma mater. Go out there and let 'em have it.

Eastern Snags Tie with Loggers

By Walt Hartman

Eastern Washington College's football Savages fought a tremendous battle with a larger and more experienced College of Puget Sound team, and the result was a 13-13 tie in Eastern's Homecoming last Saturday afternoon.

Two freshmen, along with a pair of veterans, were the outstanding players of the game for the Savages. Jay Stierwalt and Jerry McLain, a pair of Ephrata boys, came through when the chips were down.

Stierwalt blocked a punt and raced 33 yards with the touchdown that enabled the Savages to tie the game. McLain, who replaced the injured Stan Rhodes, was the leading ground gainer of the game, picking up 50 yards in 14 carries.

CPS scored first as Jim Creighton blocked an attempted Savage punt on the five yard line and Dick Pruett scored the touchdown. The extra point attempt was good.

With just a minute and a half to play in the first half, Jack England and Gary Fuller teamed up on the game's best play, a 52-yard pass play to score Eastern's first touchdown. The extra point attempt was no good and so it remained CPS 7, and EWC 6 at the half.

CPS scored first again in the second half as Pruett again went over from one yard out. The extra point attempt was no good.

That set the stage for Dave Crowell and Stierwalt to block the CPS punt and Stierwalt's 33-yard touchdown scamper. Alt's extra point attempt was good.

Eastern gridgers face what looks to be the toughest assignment of the 1959 season when they meet the league-leading Whitworth Pirates Saturday afternoon at Contry Homes.

The Bucs have only one soiled mark on their season record, a 6-0 defeat by the College of Puget Sound. Eastern had better success with the Loggers, however, battling them to a 13-13 tie in last Saturday's Homecoming contest.

It will be the final league game for the Redmen, while the Pirates have one loop contest with the Pacific Lutheran Gladiators remaining.

The defeat of PLC by Western Washington' moved the Pirates into the top spot with a 2-1 record, tied with Central.

Eastern sports a 1-2-1 record in conference play and has a 1-4-1 record for the year.

Whitworth demonstrated its explosive offense last week in literally wiping up the undefeated squad of the University of British Columbia 42-0. They almost tripled the Thunderbirds in the yards gained department, rolling up 340 to 130. Buc passers completed nine of 24 for 180 yards, and picked up 170 yards on the ground.

Eastern's defense may find the task of containing Buc quarterback Denny Spurlock more than they are accustomed to. He leads the league in passing, and last week he threw eight in 15 pitches for 150 yards.

"They have the kind of attack that can go all the way, and our defense must always be on its toes or Whitworth will have six points," Coach Ed Chissus said.

The injured list grew during last week's action. Bill LaVigne suffered a broken leg in the first half, and Stan Rhodes was benched with a knee injury and is also expected to be out of action. Tom Meier, starting halfback, is expected to see only limited action Saturday because of an injured back.

Sutton Beats Hudson 'A's

The height of the intramural action last week saw the two football leaders—Sutton and Hudson "A" teams—clashing, with Sutton emerging victorious 19-0.

A stout Sutton defense which has only been scored on once all season, again turned the game in their favor.

In other games, Hudson "B" defeated Garry "A" 13-6, Sutton "B" forfeited to Hudson "B," and Monroe "A" squeaked past Garry "A" 19-13.

Swim Team Is Promising

One of the largest turnouts since swimming became a major sport in 1956 has brought hopes that Eastern might be one of the top squads in the Evergreen conference.

Dr. Richard H. Haeglin, swimming coach, has been plagued with ineligibility for the past few seasons, but with 25 swimmers on hand he hopes this problem will be negligible.

Nine of the 25 hopefuls are veterans. Back from the 1959 squad are Bob Short, Grayson Hand, conference champ in the 50 and 100 yard free style events; Jack England, and Claire McKie.

Other lettermen include Vern Kiehn, 1958 conference breaststroke champ; John Moawad, John Merrick, Dean Owen, and "Chazz" Kaworbori.

'Rags To Riches' Pleases Audience

The Virginia City Players' presentation of the nineteenth century melodrama, "From Rags To Riches," pleased a large audience last Thursday evening in Showalter auditorium.

First impressions were mixed. The cleverly conceived setting of the Bowery in 1890 expressed authority, but the dialogue, characters, action, and style of acting confused the audience during the opening scenes. These feelings of confusion were not dispelled until the idea of a burlesque treatment of melodrama established itself.

For many, burlesque quickly become tedious and probably should be confined to one-act plays, and if the play had a fault it was in this matter of treatment.

Western Dance Set

The senior class is preparing for its annual Western dance to be held in the student union lounge October 31, Saturday, 9 to 12 p. m.

Larry Lael and his group will provide the music.

The audience Thursday night, however, found all characters acted with integrity. The ensemble acting was well-balanced, smooth, and of rapid tempo. The abduction of the audience was concurrent with that of the innocent sweetness of Flossie, and although she couldn't find it in her heart to love the villain, the audience could and did.

By evening's end the rapport between audience and performer was complete. As it said in the program, "Blood will tell." —HKS

EW Future Is Promising

"Eastern Washington College of Education is no longer a small one-purpose institution," Dr. George J. Kabat, EWCE dean of instruction, told alumni and students at the annual Alumni association banquet Saturday night on the college campus.

The banquet was held in connection with Eastern's 35th annual Homecoming celebration. It preceded the Homecoming dance at the Spokane hotel later Saturday night.

Calling Eastern Washington College a "multi-purpose institution," Dr. Kabat said that slightly more than half of Eastern's graduates are preparing for careers in other than the teaching field.
